Subject: NE World Herald Article

Omaha World-Herald - Mead residents say ethanol plant is spreading 'poison' and making them sick – 1/21/22 - As time went on, other people around the Saunders County village of 600 noticed problems: Bloody noses. Headaches. Trouble breathing. And at a nearby agricultural research station run by the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, hundreds of thousands of bees were dying. <http://bit.ly/3o5FhtD>
